Plastics can make your job easier...

If you understand their properties, uses, available shapes, and where to find them, that is.

Discover what plastics can do for you at the 2010 IAPD Plastics Expo. Produced by the International Association of Plastics Distribution, this unique event provides education (free application seminars) and product information on semi-finished stock shapes, finished components, parts and pipes, valves and fittings. Its 80+ exhibitors include the top manufacturers, distributors, fabricators, processors and recyclers in the plastics industry.
